54 Cast Ballots To Override; Sen. Clark Proposes To Add New Bonus Bill to Naval Appropriation Measure.

PLAN OF VINSON IS REINTRODUCED

Harrison Pleads for Compromise on His Bill, Which He Says President Would Sign.

WASHINGTON, May 23.-(A)-Siding with President Roosevelt in his warning of "disastrous consequences," a band of 40 senators today killed the inflationary Patman bonus billonly to find the whole bonus issue immediately resurrected on both sides of the capitol. The vote to override the chief executive's veto was 54 to 40. Not only did this fall short of the necessary two-thirds, but the Patmanites lost in strength from the original 55 to 33 vote for passage of the $2,200,- 000,000 new currency measure. Administration forces mustered nine votes more than they needed, despite the overwhelming margin by which the house yesterday passed the bill-322 to 98, in the face of the president's dramatic personal appearance.

The momentous vote came at the end of nearly five hours of debate before galleries so packed with spectators that even senators' wives had to sit on the steps in the aisles. Khaki clad veterans were sprinkled through the throng and in a prominent gallery seat directly facing the vice presi- Governor Issues Procladent's dias was Louis Ward, personal representative of the Rev. Three Camps Placed For Soil Erosion Work Location of three of Georgia's 10

Location of three of Georgia's 10 new soil erosion camps was announced yesterday by the Fourth Corps Area headquarters. The Crawford county camp will be located at Musella: the Marion county camp at Buena Vista, and the Stewart county camp at Lumpkin. Selection of sites for the seven remaining camps will be announced within the next few days, it was said. The soil erosion work will be carried on by Civilian Conservation Corps workers, with 200 men assigned to each camp.

sate during the debate on the bonus bill. Three other republicans signed it. White, of Maine; Metcalf, of Rhode Island, and Davis, of Pennsylvania, but Senator Dieterich, democrat, Illinois, a bitter opponent of the legislation, declined to affix his name. The report branded as "confiscatory" some of the provisions of the provisions of the provisions of the provision of the electing power industry.

On another tack, Hastings declared "the rights of states are invaded. The provision of the tenth amendment to the federal constitution is so complete by ignored that one might well conclude that state lines and state government have been eliminated."

Flatly contradicting him, Wheeler asserted the bill did not interfere with state rights and that spokesmen for state public utility commissions had indorsed the measure, with a few changes.

But whichever type is chosen, it is of first importance that you pick wisely. Even the most skilled cookery cannot transform a poor bird into a tender, subtly flavored morsel of chicken. However, it is easy to judge a good fowl by the following pointers—meaty breast and thighs, clean smooth skin, soft flexible cartilage at the end of the breast-bone, moderately soft smooth feet, and claws of medium length and sharpness. With these identifying factors well in mind, you will be able to select a choice bird with sureness and conviction. Then try the following delightful new recipes for poultry cookery. They will add a gala touch to family Sunday dinners and special spring parties.

ALIBI TESTIMONY HIT IN BANK RAID TRIAL

Government Seeks To Break Down Plea of Harvey and Smith.

ROME, Ga,, May 23.—(A)—Although the government and defense had closed their cases in the federal court trial of Leland Harvey and Aubrey Smith for the $9,875 holdup of two bank messengers here last August 24, the government through rebuttal witnesses spent today attacking defense efforts to establish an alibi.

Upon adjournment of court for the day Defense Attorney Harry Strozier announced that Harvey and Smith would not be called to the stand. With three hours of final arguments and the judge's charge yet to come, indications were the case would not reach the jury until late tomorrow.

A government effort to present evidence today that the defendants were involved in robberies in Atlanta and Columbus since the pay rol! roobbery here was ruled out by Judge Marvin Underwood

H. E. Roberts, a special agent of the Bureau of Investigation of the Federal Department of Justice, told of interviewing Harvey and Smith in February, 1935. He said Harvey told him "he and Smith had been in Macon and never more than 100 miles from Macon the said Harvey had been said to the said t

"It is true that a long train of developments have led up to present conditions. Such factors as tariffs, exports, foreign debts, crop control and many others are national and international in scope. These we cannot adjust but there are others we can do something about."

He said "when the day comes when business men really adopt the farm problem as their own, recognizing that in Georgia for the present at least, there can be no great or lasting prosperity unless agriculture be prosperious, then you will see something accomplished."

the cheer she brought to the friendless immigrant, the wealthy and the poor joined to honor her.

Dean Charles W. Kilkey, of the University of Chicago chapel, summoned up her life in a translation from the four-word Latin epitaph for Sir Christoper Wren inscribed over the inner doorway of St. Paul's cathedral in London, which he had designed and built.

"If you would see his monument." Dean Kilkey quoted during his 15-minute address, "look around you."

Dr. Graham Taylor, 81-year-old leader of Chicago commons, delivered a short benediction.

The services lasted but 20 minutes. Private burial will be tomorrow at Cedarville, Ill., where Miss Addams was born 74 years ago and where village residents still know her as "Aunt Jane."

News Behind the News

By Paul Mallon

FEINTING WASHINGTON, May 23 .- President Roosevelt's own relief agents are growling sharply off-stage about the way the new relief wage schedules were announced. They say the official announcement gave an erroneous impression that the rates are much lower than they really are.

The announcement was handed out from the office of Mr. Roosevelt's leading doughboy, Frank Walker, but just between you and the gate post, it really was passed on by the White House it-self. The wage-depressing tone of it was apparently adopted by design. The main idea seems to have been to offset sharp business criticism against the old high-wage relief set-up, at the start.

Most politicos agree that the president is going to be in hot-water about this wage-fixing matter from now on. In fact, some of them say the worst blunder of the New Deal was his acceptance of the responsibility on this highly controversial issue. innocent bystander in his right mind will endeavor to referee this endless row. But it can be safely said now that the announcement was not what it seemed to be in all particulars.

"$19 A MONTH" As an example, that $19 a month minimum wage does not mean a thing nationally. It applies only to comparatively few persons in one rural zone area where very few work-relief projects are contemplated. There are now on relief only 15,000 persons (out of 20,000,000) in the sections where it would apply. The blunt fact is that, in some of those sections, $19 a month is money. Families, largely negro, live mostly out of gardens, in their own huts or cottages. Professor Tugwell will take care of some of them additionally in his rural promotion scheme. Certain congressmen from those areas are saying, off the record, that the new scale will permit employed families there to keep domestic help, which has been enticed away by old relief payments.

EXEMPTIONS The announcement also failed to mention that nearly one-third of those to be put to work will not be under the relief scale at all. Some of these will receive the prevailing wage scale for the kind of work they are doing in a particular community. (Roughly, a million men are in this class.) Exemptions cover 600,000 persons in the CCC, probably 400,-000 more on highways and grade crossings and another 300,000 under the new PWA.

The average rate of pay for the country will be around $55 a month. While low, it is more than most families have been get-ting from direct relief to date. The average of direct payments supposed to be $25 to $30 per month.

Consequently, you need not expect much in the way of taper-ing off gross relief expenditures, at least not as much as the official announcement implied.

REACHING OUT The unexplained reason why Mr. Roosevelt spoke his bonus piece in person to congress is at least partly the radio. His associates will tell you confidentially he wanted to reach the ears of Father Coughlin's and Huev Long's followers, some of whom do not or cannot keep abreast of the times by reading newspapers and magazines. If he had sent up his veto in the usual way, it would have been widely printed, but not broadcast in its entirety.

This will be a permanent new wrinkle in New Deal publicity strategy. The New Dealers are apparently bent on beating back the ether waves with their own broadcasting.

that a small European nation will go off gold with-in a few weeks, and that a larger nation in the gold bloc will have to follow involuntarily shortly thereafter.

This is supposed to be the hidden reason why the market has been somewhat more buoyant, rather than the published excuses.

Marketeers may be wrong about the time of the expected gold bloc crack-up. They have been before. But all the best financial authorities here agree they are right in their expectations of the

Not even a machiné gun barrage, by formal appointment with the news reel men, in which a white-haired mother and her unruly son are shelled to tatters by operatives shooting through the pines can possibly exert the same sobering and depressing ef-fect on those whom it is desired to impress. On the contrary, it is the contention of those who claim to know the mind of the wayward youth that he is more likely to be stimulated than deterred by seenes of gunfire in which the fugitive goes down shooting out against superior numbers and y word pictures in the papers of his ively career.

The young man of this type learns o love the feel of a one-hand gun or a stuttering Thompson, and, far from flinching, is fired with a desire to en-gage in lawless conduct under arms and presently come to one great, glorious collision with the G-men, in which, though they may get him, he gets some of them. Hanging and electrocution enter his calculation only as remote chances, and being vague scenes in his imagination, any way, do not daunt him in his choice of a career.

It will be impossible, of course, to impart to any production on the screen the smell and the melancholy which are so essential to the horror of which are so essential to the horror of a real penitentiary. But, even so, a ilm portraying a week or a year the life of this country's most illustrious offender, emphasizing the rigor of the discipline on that fogboun hummock so close to the pleasure of big city, would suggest a possibility which does not occur to the mischiev-ous until they are checked in and Buying on such a scale required credit, and the Morgan bank was asked to arrange a loan. That was the beginning of disaster.

Of course, private bankers could lend money to the allies, as merchants could sell them goods, without violation of our neutrality; but the business soon outgrew private resources.

McBrayer Termed Prohi Law 'U. S. Public Enemy Number 1

The Rev. H. E. McBrayer, paster of the Lakewood Heights Methodist church, South, was one of the few outstanding ministers who advocated state prohibition law. The Rev. McBrayer was suspended from his pulpit and directed to attend trial on charges of "immorality" growng out of his participation in the prohibition law when they speak at the polls on May 15. On this date people will have one of the greatest opportunities to render a great serv-ice to the state of Georgia that the repeal campaign.

The minister's first statement, attacking the prohibition law, a statement which he used as the basis for his speeches in behalf of repeal folpeople have ever had.

I thought that I would remain silent through this campaign but other ministers are taking advantage of their right to freedom of con-science, speech and press and many of them are expressing their opinions and convictions with reference to this matter. Therefore, I am uncom-promisingly in favor of repealing the state prohibition law and adopting local option. Therefore, I cannot remain silent, for to remain silent would warrant people into believing that I am in favor of prohibition. I have thought this thing through to the best of my ability in the light of all the available information and it is now a matter of deep conviction with me tion with me.

I am sure that gangsiers, racket-eers and bootleggers are uncompro-misingly opposed to repealing the state prohibition law. If this is true and I also oppose repeal, then it is perfectly obvious that I would be lined up with the gangsters, and I to be on their side of this issue. It is my opinion that a large number of the ministers in Georgia have seen that prohibition is unpopu-lar, nawise and a colossal failure. They have seen in their own communities the disadvantages of prohibi ceived a great amount of publicity during the last few years. At one time his name was Al Capone and another time he was John Dillinger and Hamilton and so on. These men and others like them have been pub-lic enemies, but for the last 15 years Public Enemy Number One in the United States has been the 18th amendment. The federal government has gone after the individual public enemies and has had great success in bringing them to justice and the people of the United States went after the 18th amendment, the real Public Enemy Number One, and with a success that was both speedy and overwhelming, brought him to that justice which was inevitable. Geor-gia is a great state, because she is the home of a great people, but we have among us a Public Enemy Number One. He is the state pro-hibition law, but the people are after him, and I believe will on May 15 bring him to speedy and overwhelm-

Relieved from Taxation.

It is almost unthinkable that the people would relieve from taxation an industry like the liquor industry and yet that is what has happened. We yet that is what has happened. We took the great liquor business in the state of Georgia and the United States and donated it free of any charge or any taxes to gangsters, racketeers and bootleggers. For 15 years we have had America's greatest crime wave and I believe pro-hibition laws are in a large measure responsible for this unprecedented era of crime. The prohibition laws gave to gangsters the liquor busi-ness and the liquor business furnish-ed the money for the organization and promotion of crime in a big way. Take the control of whisky out of the hands of gangsters and you will cut off their chief source of income. Cut off the income that provides the capital for the support and promo-tion of crime and organized crime capital for the support and promotion of crime and organized crime will begin to disappear.

It takes great sums of money to finance the organization of crime like we have witnessed in the last few years but our prohibition laws donated the liquor business and the liquor business and the liquor business furnished the money. I believe the people of Georgia know that these are the true facts in the case and with these facts so fresh in our memories for they have happened in our own life time, we will vote for local option on May 15. Everybody in Georgia can get all the whisky they want, any time they want it. I know of several places that you can buy it. We will probably not have more whisky in Georgia under a local option law than we have now under prohibition law, but it is conservatively estimated that under local option the state will receive $3.000,000 a year from the taxes on liquor and this money will be spent in the schools of the state.

Seeking Federal Money.

Right now we are trying to borrow money from Uncle Sam to pay our school teachers and if the state prohibition law is repealed, we will have our own money with which to pay our school teachers. We have whisky now and we will have will have our own money with which to pay our school teachers. We have whisky now and we will have hooltegers or by the state. If the people think this through there can be no doubt about their answer on May 15. I don't know whether God would take any part on the Georgia prohibition situation or not, but I do think it would be wise for church people to talk with Him about it, and discover His will in the matter. If church people do this, with an open mind and a clear vision, I am convinced that we will come to the conclusion that God would prefer local option.

Prohibitionists are praying for God to help them, but I do not believe He clusion that God would prefer local option.

Prohibitionists are praying for God to help them, but I do not believe He will do it. He knows all the harm prohibition has done in Georgia and what a blessing repeal and local option would be: therefore, do not hesitate for one moment to pray earnestly for God's guidance and help as the good people of Georgia go on May 15 to repeal the Georgia bone-dry law. If an individual or an institution makes a mistake the only wise thing to do is admit it, attempt to correct it, and repair the damage done. I believe the average individual knows that unintentionally a kreat mistake has been made. The people everywhere admit it, and the people will correct it and repair the damage done.

Guided by Church.

In a large measure the people were guided into this terrible situation that exists in Georgia with reference to liquor by the church. The church should admit that she has directed the people over the wrong road; she should confess her mistake, repent of her sin, ask God's forgiveness the people over the wrong road; she should confess her mistake, repent of her sin, ask God's forgiveness and urge the people to correct our greatest mistake by voting for local option on May 15. There was a time when the church had a great influence over the people, but that time has passed; her influence and the authority of her voice has almost disappeared. Why? The answer is plain—she has unintentionally put the people on the wrong road and the people know it. The church knows by now that she has made a mistake but she does not seem to have the courage to admit it. The people see this also; therefore, her influence and the authority of her voice continues to die.

My prayer to God is that the church will repent of her sins, make restitution for her sins by helping to repair the great damage done to our people by prohibition, and to make herself worthy again of the respect, confidence and reverence which the people of Georgia would gladly lay at the feet of a church that has the courage to confess her mistake and the grace to repent of her sins. With the manufacturing and selling of liquor legalized in adjoining states but held illegal in Georgia, just what will happen is perfectly clear. There will be a constant stream of money flowing out of Georgia into our neighbor states, making Georgia poor and our neighbor states rich. "Colossal Failure."

The prohibition law has been the most colossal failure of anything ever attempted by the federal government or the state government, and the people of Georgia will have a chance to remove this failure from the state Mar. our state May 15, and I sincerely hope that they will make a good job of it. Prohibition is the most up-popular law we have ever had and making Georgia poor and our neighbor states rich.

Determined to Have Whisky.
At this period in the history of the human race people seem to be determined to have whisky when they want it: everybody in Georgia knows that the facts support this statement. So, if you want the people to drink filth and poison, keep the prohibition law, but if we are opposed to the people drinking filth and poison and prefer for them to have clean, pure and good whisky, the best that can be manufactured, then vote for lobe manufactured, then vote for local option. Only eternity will reveal the damage done to human life by prohibition laws, which have driven the people to drink the filth and poison offered for sale by the uncontrolled, illegal whisky business.

Most of us can bemember the day when people had a profound respect for officers of the law, but I think pearly everybody will admit that in for officers of the law, but I think nearly everybody will admit that in a large measure this is not true now. Why have so many people lost that respect for officers of the law? In the final analysis prohibition is responsible for it, for prohibition has created a situation which has made it possible for bootleggers to tempt the officers of the law beyond their power to resist. A few officers have power to resist. A few officers have probably yielded to the bootleggers' temptation, accepted his money and furnished him protection, and a few who have yielded to this ex-traordinary temptation have cast a shadow of suspicion upon this army of honorable protectors of the people and property.

Paul Quoted.

Paul says in I. Cor. 10, 13 "God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able," but if Paul had known that men would act so unwise as to pass prohibition laws before God repoiled his law of natural fermentation, he would probably have not made the statement. Paul knew that with men statement. Paul knew that with men the spirit is willing but the flesh is weak and if he had thought there would ever be such a thing as prohibition he probably would have said: God is faithful, Who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able unless you are an officer of the law when the people experiment with prohibition for a season.

I sincerely believe that it is the sacred duty of every Christian in Georgia to use his or her influence and vote on May 15th to repeal the bone-dry law which I honestly believe is one of the greatest curses from which Georgia has ever suffered. We read in the Bible about an epedemic of plagues in Egypt, the king would plead with Moses and Moses would pray to God and the plague would be lifted. Just as Moses did ask God to lift the plague from Egypt, I believe that every per-Moses did ask God to lift the plague from Egypt, I believe that every person in Georgia who believes in prayer should ask God to help the people adopt local option at the polls on May 15 and remove the prohibition plague from Georgia.

Local Option Described.

What is local option? Local option extends to the counties of Georgia the right to legalize or not to gia the right to legalize or not to legalize spirituous liquors according to the wishes of the voters of each county within their respective boun-daries. Local option is democratic and upholds the principles of states' rights for the county is a unit in itself; there. I believe the democrat-ic people of Georgia prefer local op-tion to any other form of regulating and controling spirituous liquors.

The people can vote for repeal on May 15 and have their county remain dry if they wish. Some of the prohibition leaders try to leave the impression that the church people of Georgia are opposed to the bone-dry

I do not believe good, clean, pure, spirituous liquor is as harmful as many probibition leafers try to make the people believe. My observation and conclusion is as follows: The human race has been drinking good, clean, pure liquor all of its life and if liquor was as harmful as probibitionists would have us believe, the human race would have died from drinking centuries ago. If we force the people to drink the fifth and poison that problibition makes possible, it is conceivable that the race could commit suicide by drinking such fifth and poison, but it cannot kill itself with good, clean, pure liquor all of its life and if liquor was as harmful as problibitionists would have us believe, the Mr. Robison, the Rev. New York Paper Reveals 'Official Report' by Treasury.

NEW YORK. May 23.—(P)—The New York Herald-Tribune in a special dispatch from a Washington correspondent, says the Treasury Department, after months of digging into the financial dealings of Senator Huey Long has produced an "official report" purporting to show that Long and a friend, on one occasion, "put S500.000 in a St. Louis bank in a single deposit." le deposit."

The story further quotes Long as saving "Listen: If anybody can find a $500,000 deposit like that, or that I erer made a deposit like that. I'll give the finder 99 per cent if he'll give me one per cent."

While the Roosevelt administration s credited in the dispatch with pushing the investigation under instruc-tions to "make no exceptions," demo-ratic leaders were reported counseling caution on the ground that if the attempt failed it would make the Louisiana senator a political "martyr" of greater potentialities than ever.

Long said at Washington tonight, in answer to the published reports, "the last time they had a report out about me they had an account in Canada."

The dispatch quoted Long as charging that President Roosevelt was behind the move and recounted that the investigation of Long's income had been "an open secret"... which was "a ticklish matter on the late William H. Woodin's desk when he took over the treasury."

VALIDITY OF RECOVERY ACT

ATTACKED ON 53 COUNTS
MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 23.—
(P)—Validity of the National Industrial Recovery Act was attacked on 53 grounds in a motion filed in United States district court here today asking that a bill of complaint brought by the NRA to enjoin erection of ice plants in Montgomery he dismissed plants in Montgomery be dismissed.

L. L. De Jarnette, of Montgomery, one of two respondents to the NRA bill filed last week, was therein charged with violation of Section 11 of the code of fair competition for ice industry through the erection of a new plant here.

Motion for dismissal, filed by De Jarnette's counsel, says that the entire recovery act is unconstitutional tire recovery act is unconstitutional by virtue of the extraordinary powers it vests in the president and deals at length with the ice manufacturers' code, which it charges is violative of the constitution on various grounds. The motion further says that con-gress has no power to regulate intra-state commerce in which the respondent alleges he is solely engaged. Judge Charles B. Kennamer set June 5 for hearing arguments on the respondent's motion to dismiss the NRA bill of complaint.

But enlisting unusual interest is the fact that Mrs. O'Day will be accompanied here by her only daughter, Elia, whom Atlantans will be given the pleasure of meeting for the first time. Miss O'Day combines with her blonde beauty a brilliant mentality and that rare per-Soual charm which her mother possesses to marked degree.

Miss O'Day has circled the world and visited many of the states of this country, as well as Bermuda and the West Indies. She was educated in private schools of New York city and finished at the fashionable Oldfield school just outside of Baltimore. Miss O'Day spends part of her time at the family home in Rye, N. Y., and part of her time with her mother in Washington.

Miss O'Day is an expert equestrienne, an accomplished swimmer and a devotee of squash. She affects conservative sports wear and spends most of her leisure time indulging in some form of who travels in Europe, Maureen concentrates on the territory she covers, taking one country at each trip, instead of the whole continent. in the same circles.

She was born at Rye, N. Y. Except for occasional trips from New York by herself, she has been an almost constant companion of her mother. Both Mrs. O'Day and her daughter are highly educated and have an artistic turn of mind. When in Washington Miss O'Day is a frequent visitor in the house galleries and follows legislative moves with the same intentness as the congresswoman-at-large. She invariably assists her mother when the latter entertains formally, and is a favorite among Washington's younger social set.

6—An obvious and correct call.

The Play.

West's opening lead was the club king, which South ruffed. He then laid down the ace of trumps, and learned the worst. At this point many players would concede defeat, but South thought he could see a chance of victory, slight thought it was. For this he proceeded to play. He led the spade four, and won with the ace in dummy. The finesse, if needed, could be deferred. Next a trump was led from dummy and East's eight was won with the 10. The spade five was now led, and when West's queen dropped under the king, South could see victory in sight, provided East, as appeared from the bidding, had three clubs. A club was

The spade knave permitted the discard of the losing diamond in the closed hand. The last club was now trumped and the success of the coup assured. A diamond was led and won in dummy. The last two tricks were then won with the king and jack of hearts in declarer's own hand, capturing the queen and nine in the East hand.

Perhaps the contract was over-ambitious, but its fulfillment was assured by the perfect plan of play adopted.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

My husband makes a good salary development in the everything I want within reason. My father is a hard worker but never has been able to make end to make anything that he could easily afford. In consequence I have formed the habit of giving mother a small charactery was a few this from my husband because I feared it may cause trouble. My conscience is hurting me about deceiving him. Do you think I am doing wrong?

E. D. G.

ANSWER:

Any woman would be tempted to do what you are doing and yet it is a mistake. The only basis for a permanently happy marriage is perfect houesty between a woman and her husband about any matter that affects their common interest. Why don't you have a frank talk with your husband, tell him that you are willing to take an allow-ance and save out of it enough to give your mother a little easement cach week. If you don't call on him for extra money to buy things for yourself he certainly couldn't begrudge you the pleasure of dividing what you have with her. ANSWER:

A good husband's chief concern life is to see his wife happy and he will do a lot of things that are not altogether agreeable to him just for the satisfaction of pleasing her. If the satisfaction of pleasing her. If you can make him see how much this generosity will mean to you no doubt he will grant your request.

Insect and animal pests are not only disagreeable; they menace our health and injure our houses, food, and furnishings. Despite the fight continuously waged by the careful housewife against such pests, they WILL invade our homes and must then be exterminated.

Our Washington Bureau has ready for you one of its new 10,000-word, 28-page, bound booklets, that contains the latest and most authoritative information on protecting your premises, and exterminating pests. The booklet covers Ants, Bedbugs, Buffalo Moths, Carpet Beetles, Centipedes, Crickets, Fleas, Flies, Hornets, Mice, Mosquitoes, Moths, Rats, Roaches, Silverfish, Spiders, Termites ("white ants"), Wasps and Weevils. You will find it of the greatest value in opening war on the "pest front."

"So what?" Anne, asking, staring at herself wide-eyed and disheveled in a mirror. "He'll take me in his arms—his lips on mine—No!" Abruptly she rose. Flung her arms before her as though she were warding off horror. She was laughing hysterically. "I can't take it. I'm a fool. A fool and a pauper."

She steadied herself before the mirror, addressing the white-faced, feverish woman who confronted her. "There are only two things you can be a reasonable human being and marry Craig Braden, or you can be a silly little fool and go to work." The white-faced woman gazed back at Anne with steady unwinking eyes. "Work!" she said.

"Maida, surely you're not one of those simple souls who believe everything in the papers."

Harry Kelley came in from shagging a few flies in the out field, the daily task of pitchers not scheduled for work. He sat down on the dugout steps and contemplated the scene He looked critically at the sunshine and said, plaintively, "I wish it would get hot.'

It was a bit unusual to find a pitcher with eight games

It seemed to me that I recalled days when it was rather warmish but Harry Kelley protested. "Not really hot as it gets in Memphis, Little Rock, New Orleans and towns like that," he said. (Editor's note—Chamber of Commerce please copy.)

I gathered that when it gets warm Harry Kelley will really begin to pitch that baseball. Which will be unwelcome news to the boys in our set.

HITTERS THAT WORRY HIM.

"Harry," I asked, "what hitters have worried you most?"
"Well," he said, "I guess that Johnny Gill used to cause me much trouble as anyone; he and that Lance Richbourg at shville, although they all are trouble enough, goodness knows.

They all worry a fellow."

"Say," he said, "you know the fellow who called me 'Cousin'? It was that Johnny Jones who used to play for Atlanta and Chattanooga. He batted about .250 but against me he batted .800. I couldn't get him out."

Johnny Jones was the rather acid young man who used to shortstop for the Crackers. He was traded to Chattanooga in 1931 and did not fare so well there. It was Johnny Jones whom Joe Engel traded to the Charlotte club for a turkey, a 25-pound Thanksgiving turkey. This so disgusted Johnny Jones that he quit baseball. He had an income of about $10,000 per year and he retired. He was an aggressive and skilled fielder but not too warm

"How about the left-handers?" I asked. "Well," said the big right-hand thrower, "there isn't much difference. On the days you have your curve ball going well they don't cause so much worry." "Which do you like to throw best, the fast one or the curve?" I asked.

"The fast one," he said, grinning. "I like to use it about once every fourth pitch. But when they start hitting it-man!"

They do not hit his fast one very much. He is a very re-markable young man, this 29-year-old veteran who has several great years left in baseball. He should go on for at least 10 more years, winning lots of ball games.

Harry Kelley looked some more at the sun. "It isn't very warm," he said. "I wish it would get hot. I guess I'd better get off this sweat shirt and put on another one.

I'll freeze out here." When August comes and the thermometer is flirting around with 97 degrees in the shade and no shade, I am going to present Harry Kelley with some ear muffs and an overcoat.

But was there ever a pitcher such as he? I'd almost wish for some Memphis or New Orleans heat just to satisfy the big fellow. He is my pitcher.

DIXIE HOWELL.

I found Dixie Howell on the Birmingham bench before yesterday's game, nursing an injured instep. He was playing, said Manager Clyde Milan, despite the fact he should be resting. The Barons have had more than their share of ill fortune in so far as injuries are concerned.

Bullock, of More over-ran the ball. Malinosky then topped a bounder to Johnny Hill on which the latter hesitated a little too long, the Baron shortstop beating his throw to first for an infield hit. "Bud" Clancy, the first baseman, then larruped a solid double to right, scoring Howell.

He has shed all that football glory.

When the Crackers went angling for a first baseman to take Harry Taylor's place and hooked Alexander Hooks, it was considered a very nifty piece of casting.

Yesterday the rangy young man made his debut in the game with Birmingham and fastened his hooks very securely on that position as the Crackers administered a 5-3 licking to the Barons in the series opener.

All that Alexander did was to get himself four clean hits, all singles, in as many times at bat and handle all of his fielding chances, some of them hard ones that he made to look easy, with perfect aplomb.

Manager Eddie Moore, of course, was elated over the debut of his newest Cracker and thinks Hooks will give his club added punch and field as efficiently, if not as flashily as Harry Taylor did at the position.

"What I like about him if his reach and steadiness with which he plays the bag," Eddie stated. Hooks, who towers 6 feet 3, is not at all awkward and while not as spectacular in the field as Taylor, nevertheless is as smooth a performer as one wants to see. He fielded with little effort and showed that he could knock down the hard ones when he came up with Tony Malinosky's hot smash down the line in the first to make a perfect play had not Jim tripped and dropped the ball when Malinosky ran over him and cut his leg with his spikes.

SCORES IN EIGHT.

Hooks did not drive in any runs but the only reason that he did not was because there were no runners on base when he came up. But he scored a run in the eighth after dropping a single over second. He and Manager Eddie Moore worked the hit-and-run play beautifully, sending Alex to third, from where he later scored on Joe Palmisano's hit.

Lindsey pitched a good game and with perfect fielding behind him would never have been in hot water.

Bill Hughes, a Baron ace last year, was his opponent and the Crackers took a 1-0 lead off him in the third on "Pinky" James' resounding triple which scored Johnny Hill after the latter had forced Nig Lipscomb who had singled. SCORES IN EIGHT.

A. T. Hornsby, second baseman for the Atlantic Steel Company

A. T. Hornsby, second baseman for the Atlantic Steel Company team, and a great young prospect, has been signed by the New Orleans Pelicans, it was learned yesterday.

Hornsby departed with the Pelicans Wednesday night after they had completed their series with the Crackers. Larry Gilbert, Pelican manager, signed the boy and took him with the club.

Hornsby was born in Atlanta and attended Tech High school. He played shortstop for the Tech High team.

BUFORD, Ga., May 23.-Chink Martin's triple and Eddie Baxter's long fly in the ninth inning gave Buford a 3-to-2 victory over Brighton Mills, from Shannon, Ga., here this afternoon. It was one of the best games of the year with both pitchers working well.

Culberson limited Buford to six hits and kept them scattered, while Reid, who defeated Tech last Saturday, gave the visitors nine scattered hits. A single double, an infield out and a long outfield fly gave Brighton two runs in the second inning. Buford plays the Aragon Mills Fri-

Most remarkable indeed was the survey instituted by Time magazine the results of which survey were printed in the issue of last week. The magazine selected 22 names, mixtures of politicians, sportsmen, New Dealers, writers, capitalists, swindlers, proletarians, all of whom were in the news. The survey was begun last summer. The results, as aforesaid, are rather startling.

The names selected were Samuel Insult, Hugh S. Johnson, John N. Garner, James A. Farley, H. ### REVISED LINEUP Hooks Borrows Eddie's Bat, Gets 4 GIVES CUBS WIN

Alex Hooks, the Crackers' new first baseman who made a brilliant debut with four for four yesterday, is trying to trade Eddie Moore out of one of his favorite bats.

Hooks did not have any of his own style bats when he came here, so Manager Moore let him have one of his own models until he can order some for him.

Eddie's bat produced four singles in as many times up for the young first sacker and now he wants to buy the bat off the skipper. He'll at least be a-borrowing of it from time to time.

Hooks thinks that he will strike the batting pace he set with Tulsa last year as soon as he overcomes a hand injury he rece ived with Philadelphia. Right now he is playing with his left hand protected with a specially made thumb-guard. He hit .341 with Tulsa in 1934 and led the league with 44 doubles.

Thus, Frankie Frisch, leader of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Gordon "Mickey" Cochrane, pilot of the Detroit Tigers, will manage the National and American league teams respectively.

Every manager will be permitted to recommend any players he desires,

THE TOP CUT.

Now, it is a well-known fact that the pros are not averse to the glory. But they really care for it only when it goes hand-in-hand with the top cut. BOSTON. May 23.—(A)—The rallying Detroit Tigers, headed by husky Hank Greenberg, slammed their way past the Red Sox into the American league's first division today with a 5-to-3 victory in the series opener. It was the fifth straight triumpl for the 1934 league champions, who dropped clear to the cellar early this spring, and put them a half-game ahead of Boston. It also served to bring Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe his third mound victory against as many defeats, although he lost much of his fectiveness toward the finish after

By FRANK MacMILLEN. NEW YORK, May 23 .- (AP) - With the fate of the bonus veto bill still in the hands of the senate when the ing today Wall Street had put in another day with one eye cocked toward Washington, and prices teetered narrowly.

While the upholding of the president's opposition to the Patman measure came too late to exert a direct effect on prices, it was in line with most Wall Street expectations and a few traders backed their guess by continuing a campaign of selective purchasing during most of the day's

Following the trend of the recent past most of the buying was concentrated in industrials and specialties, with the rails and utilities laggards. Oils, sugar shares, rubbers, chemicals and metals all had their firm

Stocks changed hands briskly, with turnover in the stock exchange aggregating 1.285,330 shares. The Associated Press average, however, with its gain of .1 of a point at 42.3, mirrored the restricted character of most price changes.

Some staples helped sentiment.
Wheat advanced 1-4 to 3-4 of a cent, higher. Cotton, at the same time, lost 40 to 65 cents a bale.

Rate Hiked.

While not an active market influence in the day's security dealings, banking quarters were keeping a close watch on the French currency situation for its longer term significance in the world problem of monecance in the world problem of monetary stabilization. Evidence of the strain under which the franc has been laboring in world exchange markets was seen in the boosting of the dis-count rate of the Bank of France to 3 per cent from 21-2.

Most changes in the leading European monies against the dollar were narrow today, however, including the franc which improved mildly but was still at a level at which gold can be profitably shipped to New York. The pound sterling also advanced a

The usual seasonal improvement in gasoline consumption and the re-peated evidence recently of a firmer price structure for crude oil helped to garner a following for the shares of the petroleum group, which were quite active. While there was no concerted prewhile there was no concerne pressure against any position, traders who were long of the staple and did not want to maintain their position with the bonus vote impending liquidated their holdings and brought about the mild price recessions.

The market was under the previous The market was under the previous closing levels for most of the session today. Around noon May in the old crop months managed to cross the previous closing level, but other futures held from 4 to 10 points lower during the entire day.

Spots lost 10 points today, dropping to 12.40 for middling at New Orleans. With July closing at 11.91, October at 11.66, December at 11.70 and January at 11.73, final bids were around the lows for the day.

Trading Slow.
Trading proceeded at a very slow oace. With outside interest almost pace. With outside interest almost totally lacking and both speculative and trade interest running at a low ebb, there was little demand for cotton.

More rains in Texas provided the main item of interest in the daily weather report. General showers in weather report. General showers in south Texas at this time are regarded more favorable than otherwise, although even those areas are in want of dry weather to complete planting. In the remainder of the belt the rainfall overnight was scattered and on the average conditions were favorable for working in the fields.

Better Weather.

While crop news has not been optimistic for the last few days the weather map issued on Wednesday showed that conditions were not as bad as were anticipated. Reports from Worth Street stated that there was an active and strong market there. Liverpool came in with another Liverpool came in with another quiet and uncertain market. Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 1 to 2 English points lower.

FUTURES IN NEW YORK

DECLINE 8 TO 13 POINTS NEW YORK, May 23 .- (AP)-Cot-NEW YORK, May 23.—(P)—Cotton was heavy today under foreign selling and commission house realizing. Final prices showed net losses of 8 to 13 points.

Relatively easy Liverpool cables combined with selling from that source, the continent and the Far Fast gave the market a heavy steady.

row, caused the market to sell off to new losses of 10 to 15 ppints. Par-tial rallies followed on trade buy-ing, but closing levels were not far from the lows for the day.

Some of the selling was credited to more favorable weather in central and eastern belts, but the outlook was for showery conditions over most of the south.

Exports today 17,490 making 4,325,902 so far this season. Port receipts 4,344. U. S. port stocks 1,744,005.

The possibility of a temporary reac-shown in the federal reserve statement.

2. The banking bill, now pending, for a central bank with "political" control ver all of the nation's banking. Opponents of the measure have charged that such control would give the opening for vast inflationary moves of either the printing press variety or further credit step-up.

3. The charge—though slight—that some sort of a bonus rider with just as severe printing press implications might be rushed through.

It was interesting to note that west cast markets, which were open at the time of the senate vote, did not show any immediate reaction and trading continued dull. The dollar showed no change in foreign exchange trading after the senate vote.

The possibility of a temporary reaction in the stock market depends on how great the so-called inflation buying was last week and how frightened these buyers are. Such buyers ordinarily are not what the market consider good technical influence and they may run for cover immediately.

This, Wall Street believes, would result in a drop and then a strength the panhandle Friday.

"Auntie" Miller, fresh out of Tech at midsemester and hunting a job—anything from bodyguarding babies to airing dogs—gawed at giant, red-jowled Store Detective Gimbroid, and managed to stammer:

"Yes, sir, I think I could—"

"Could what?" snapped Gimbroid.
"Could act as if I were a husband standing around wishing thell my wifew ould hurry up."

Into the thick-lidded eyes sharpened a steel-cut look. "All right. You're hired. But remember. You're no pussyfootin' floorwalker. When I hand your credentials, you're a store dick. And you're supposed to get your woman."

"Woman?"

to land the skirt all-fired quick—or—!"

The surly gountenance darkened. We sair than me! I're been a detective five year. I don't need no amateur workin' under me!"

Into the viened, narrow eyes flickered a cold glimmer of a smile as they took in the loose-built, awkward chap. "But something tells me you'll—do. C'mon," Gimbroid lumbered erect. "I'll show you the ropes."

An hour later found Auntie Miller, figuratively sniffling at every passing customer, hound-eager after a possible scent.

"She has a weakness for art goods," "Auntie" Miller, fresh out of Tech | to land the skirt all-fired quick-

'Woman?"

"Woman?"

"Yes—woman!" Gimbroid blared.

TAX BILL DEFEATED

IN ALABAMA HOUSE Effort To Exempt Homesteads Up to $2,000 Loses; Industrial Plants Helped.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 23 .-A)-An effort to write a $2,000 homestead exemption into the state's general revenue bill today was defeated, 47 to 37, by the Alabama house of representatives sitting as a committee of the whole, with a sales tax being used in the arguments against the proposal.

While the house argued over the $22,000,000 revenue measure, senate committees gave favorable reports to the Dominick sterilization bill and to the Stephens bill to provide for reapportionment of the legislature.

Also getting approval in senate committees was a bill to provide further regulation of burial benefit associations and insurance companies. The measure provides legal reserves must be posted according to a sliding scale running from $3,000 to $100,000 de-pending upon the size of the company. After voting down the plan to ex-mpt homesteads from taxes up to $2,000, the house approved a section of the bill to exempt from tax for ten years new paper mills, cotton and wool yarn plants, shipyards and pulp The senate's agricultural committee approved a bill to define certain naval stores as "agricultural products" and the public health committee voted fa-vorably on a bill to establish health units in every county of the state. TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 23.
